A. S. WATSON & Co., Limited, THE HONGKONG DISPENSARY.

HONGKONG, MONDAY, MARCH 20: 1809.

WE desire to call the special attention of His Excellency the Governor (if the matter has not yet been brought to his notice) to the leading article in this morning's Daily Press and to the correspondence published in the China Mail of Friday last, in connection with the scandalous misbehaviour of Dr. Dobukuk, the Director of the Hongkong Observatory, in addressing to the Weather Bureau of the United States'a most calumnious communication aimed at the Directors of the Observatory at Manila, the result of which has been to cause the latter to suspend, under orders from the United States Government, the issue of all Meteorological notices to this Colony. We sincerely hope that His Excellency will without delay communicate with the United States Authorities in the Philippines and request, if not the abrogation, at least the suspension of the operation of the orders issued by them; until the Government of the United States at Washington has been communicated with. and, that His Excellency will take the promptest measures to disabuse the American Government and the Officers of the U.S. Weather Bureau on the subject of Dr. Doneron's misrepresentations. The typhoon warnings received from Manila have at all times been of the very greatest value to the mercantile and shipping community in Hongkong, far more simple, far more correct, far more practical than any that Dr. DOHERCK has ever issued. Dr. Doherck has never issued any typhoon warnings of any value, except those based on the warnings from the Philippines and, in most coming athletic meeting, to be held under the cases, he has endeavoured so to frame his auspicies of the Victoria Recreation Chib, on notices so as to conceal his obligations to Saturday, April 1st. As will be seen, the events the observers there, and in so doing has are many and varied, and if the weather is only succeeded in confusing the messages and rendering them obscure. No typhoon warnings from Manila have been sent to the newspapers at any time. They have THE final tie for the Hongkong Football been sent to the Spanish Consul in Hong- Challenge Shield will be played on Saturday kong for the use of his mationals, and have been communicated by him to the papers of his own free will. The Manila warnings have never been sensational. They have never been anything else but simple statements of fact, giving point of origin, direction and progress of all cyclonic disturbances coming within the range of the observers in the Philippines. They have -been equally valuable to ships leaving Hong-

on than anything issued by Dr. Donerck at any time. We make bold to say that Dr. DOBERCK, as a Meteorologist, never possessed at tithe of the knowledge on the subject of typhoons possessed by the Fathers in the Manila Observatory, and that no one ever attached to his weather warnings a hundredth part of the importance invariably given to warnings from Sicawie or Manila. The scientific training of the Jesuit Fathers is known to all the world to be of the very highest class and their devotion to their work is unequalled. Dr. DOBERCK from the first day of his arrival in Hongkong tlid all he could, conversationally and otherwise, to depreciate the work of the Jesuits, and we have now before us copy of a letter addressed by him to Sir Robert HART, in December, 1891, in which he meanly endeavoured to induce the Inspector General to forbid all communication of Meteorological Observations from Chinese ports (including South Cape Formosa) to Manila except through him: Sir Robert Harttook no notice of his communication, beyond handing a cop of it to the late Director of the Manila Observatory, who left the copy with us to use it at any time the issue of typhoon warnings from that Observatory was suspended.

We hope the Governor will call Dr Donerck strictly to account for his conduct. and will take speedy measures to re-open communication with Manila, and to assure the American authorities that the most valu able and least sensational meteorological warnings, we receive in Hongkong, are those from Manila.

Hongkong. Nine days' quarantine imposed on arrivals from Hongkong. "SECRETARY,"

THE death is reported on the 11th inst. of the -Tartar-General of Lower Manchuria (Fenglien), E-kô-t'ang-h, in his yamên in Moukden: The deceased was sixty-eight years old at the time of his death, and during the late war with Japan showed himself to be the only Chinese General who had any knowledge of handling large bodies of troops and moving them about the country in proper order and discipline. Had it not been for the deceased General's able defence of Liaoyang, the city of Moukden would have been captured by the Japanese armies soon after they crossed the Yalu into Manchuria.

ON Saturday night a fire broke out at 226, Queen's Road, a lamp exploding and setting fire to the partition. A beam connecting with the adjoining room of 224 also became ignited, with the result that both rooms, which are on the top floor, were burned out. The Fire Brigade prevented any further damage being done. On Sunday morning some premises at West Point used for boiling sugar bags caught fire through some sparks alighting on to some shavings. The police got the hose from the despatch box in the locality and, attaching it to the hydrant, soon put out the flames. On the same day a stock at Hung Hom got alight and set fire to an adjoining mat-shed. The police appeared on the scene and put the fire out...

AT the annual meeting of the British Chamber of Shipping, held in London on 8th ultimo, the Liverpool Shipowners' Association brought forward a motion asking the Government to endeavour to secure that vessels carrying the British flag should trade with Cuba, Puerto Rico, and the Philippine Islands. This was agreed to, as also were three resolutions submitted by. the Hull Chamber of Commerce, respecting stamps upon bills of lading, shortages of wood cargoes, and picketing. It was urged that in consequence of the hindrance of men willing to labour caused-by the obstruction of organised pickets, it is desirable that some member of · Parliament be invited to introduce a bill to amend the Conspiracy and Protection of Property Act. 1875, So as to render illegal the practice of picketing in force during strikes or labour troubles. These resolutions were carried without discussion, and the proceedings closed with a vote of thanks to the President.

THE VIVIANNE DAGMAR COMPANY.

Miss Vivianne Dagmar, after an absence of several years, again favours Hongkong with her presence, and she was received on Saturday at the Theatre Royal by a well-filled house. Mr. Broughton, a capable planist, opened the evening's entertainment with an overture after which a short play in two scenes, by Henry Arthur Jones, was staged, and entitled "The Elder of the Kirk." The characters were: Abraham Boothroyd, (The Elder), Mr. W. Bond Tom Dempster (A Barister), Mr. S. Handing, Mrs. Bolingbroke (The old Juliet), Miss Freeman, Rosa Jervois. (The new Juliet), Miss Dagmar.

The curtain rises, giving a view of Tom Dempster seated in his quarters in a house in London. In his hand he holds the following

My Dear Tom,—I am called suddenly up to London to attend the Great Indignation Meeting, to protest against the acquisition of Exeter Hall by the icsec, of some neighbouring Theatre, and to petition Government against the conversion of that venerable edifice into a Music Hall and Temple of Folly—[hum; they don't contemplate a great change in the character of the entertainment). I shall be in London almost as soon as this reaches you,—Ithe dence he will. Of course, the meeting is to night, and I shall come on to your rooms at once. Get ma a snack of something to cat; don't, make a great spread, chop or steak will do.

Your affectionate Uncle.

ABRAHAM BOOTHROVE. P.S. Get me the last six numbers of "Zion's Trum-pet;" and if it's a steak, see that it's cut thick,

Tom's uncle is an eccentric and bluff old Scotchman, who is the owner of a large and flourishing bacon and sausage factory in "kiltland." As far as family matters were concerned Boothroyd had been unfortunate, having lost his wife through death years ago; and also a daugliter, whom he once worshipped, but had cast off because she married a stage artiste. The desecration of Exeter Hall had revived Boothroyd's hatred for theatres, and he determined to visit the Metropolis to protest against the conversion of the Hall into a "Temple of Folly." Dempster had fallen in love with Rosa Jervois, an actress, and he hailed the visit of his uncle with displeasure and fear, knowing well the old man's aversion to the stage. Dempster's intended and one Mrs. Bolingbroke calls upon him that evening, and he explains to them his fears concerning his uncle's visit. Mrs. Bolingbroke, whose organ of diplomacy is trongly developed, undertakes to help Demoster out of the dilemma. Boothroyd, the Elder of the Kirk, eventually arrives, but pulls up aghast at the presence of a lady. Dempster explains, and by a little artifice and cajolling Mrs. Bolingbroke ingratiates herself. successfully into the good graces; of the uncle, and eventually, after eloquent persunsion, induces the manufacturer of bacon and sausages to forego his prejudices and visit a theatre, He was simply infatuated with the play, was enraptured with the role of "Juliet," and even went so far as to ask the Juliet he had seen play that evening, who was none other than, Dempster's lover, to pay a visit to his village, and give a performance, he (Boothroyd) wishing also to take part. The uncle was so taken up with Dempster's finncee that he received ther with outstretched arms, and willingly careinted to Took taking her "for better or for weise," Each character was well sustained, especially that by Mr. Bond, who spoke the Scotch dialect amazingly correct. . The sketch was followed by a variety entertainment, and was opened by Mr. Bond sinking a couple of comic songs ("Why does a chicken" cross the road?" and "A lot to do to day "), which were encored. Miss Dagmar appeared in song, and Miss Freeman sang "At Eventide" from Fulker, in a pleasing voice, the first part closing with a duett, entitled "All the way from gay Parce," which was accorded an encore. The second part was started by Mr. Broughton at the piano, and then Mr. Harding gave an amusing ventriloquial entertainment. Miss Freeman next pleased the audience with a Queen's Jubilee song, eliciting encomiums, and Mr. Bond favoured with another comic song entitled "Very close." The two last items, before the Serpentine Dances, were given by musical sketch. Then came what the audience specially went to see-the serpentine dances by Miss Dagmar. The number was well worth seeing, for Miss. Dagmar was particularly clever in manipulating the skirts she wore; and the effect produced, with the limelights was very enchanting.

To night the sketch will be "The Guinea,"

In the cavity of the bar are placed two cartridges, run () on grooves made in the curved bar, and attached to long curved needles. In the helmet are two holes fitted with dices which can be made to revolve until they come into opposition with the eyes of the victim. The apparatus is in communication with a battery on a table near by, which causes the cartridges to revolve, and at the same time to plunge forward and bury themselves deep in the frontal lobes of the brain, destroying instantly a hirponortion of the white matter of the cerebrum. ANOTHER CLUB VICTORY.

Mother Shipton was famous for her prophecids, but we have totally cclipsed her. Anyone who will turn up the file of the "Telegraph" will find that we have named before the match every winner of the Challenge shield ties. On Saturday morning we sent the Copy to press stating that the Hongkong Football Club should beat H.M.S. Victorious by two goals, and it was exactly the number of points the Club won by. We now prognosticate that the Club will beat the 38th Company, R. A., next Saturday by three goals, that is if the members will play the game right through. At any rate, it now seems certain that the Hongkong F. C. will win the coveted trophy this season. The game-on_Saturday was, the hardest fought of the whole series, and was also the fastest played, -so fast as to cause Lowe's knee to give way after a long run and a fall close. on time, which confines him to hospital----Noble suffered also, owing to the fast play, and at half time he required the services of his colleagues, as well as the use of stimulants: He was very plucky, however, and continued to play right to the end, although he again collapsed about half way through the last half, after making a gallant and unaided effort to score. We cannot compliment "Jack," however, at the way in which he sneered at Noble's breakdown. It was a grand effort that Noble made, and we gave Jack credit for giving a cheer instead of a sneer. We thoroughly echothe sentiments of the song which says "we all love fack," but we cannot agree with him when he throws epithets at the referce. If Mr. Oliver was not qualified for the position, he would never have been selected to fill it, and we go so far as to say that no one on the ground could have taught him the rules of the game better than he knows them himself, for he is an old and tried player, who keeps himself well versed in all points, old and new, of the winter

As we have stated, the final match will be aplayed next Saturday, and preparations have been started to accommodate a large crowd of spectators. On the road side of the ground the frame work of a big stand is completed and when the seats are fixed, the erection will be capable of holding six hundred people.

Whatever the result may be, the Club deserves to win. The players have, we believe, created a record in the Shield competitions by scoring eleven goals during the present season's ties against none by their opponents. Hongkong has played in all four rounds; but the 38th Company, R.A., has crept up into the final by means of two byes, receiving one even in the semi-final. So it would be very "hard lines indeed if the Club men were to lose the grophy after playing so well as to win all the other games. Train well, blub, and let all see and know that you are still able to keep up your prestige, even if you have to find a substitute in the place of Lowe. It is to be hoped, however, that your wing man will be fit and well to fill his post when the time arrives for the final game to be played. If Lowe is not able to turn out, Mr. Green, of Shewan Tomes & Co., will be requisitioned.

The game on Saturday had been in progress about fen minutes when Lowe cleverly scoreda goal for the Club. Anton first secured the ball and fed Hancock, then Hancock gave it to Danby, who made a short run and afterwards centred to Noble; the latter tried to put the ball through, but Bowles just managed to keep it out. Lowe, however, had sprinted in from the wing, and catching the ball on his foot just as it was about to be kicked away, he landed it into the net before Bowles could realise what had happened. There was nothing more scored during the first half, although both custodians were compelled to handle on more soccasions than one. When the interval was called both sides were glad of the rest, for the game had been exceedingly fast,

The second half was played just as fast, and it looked as if no more goals were possible, but about five minutes before the call of time. Danby smartly, secured on the left wing and ran round all opposition; he then swerved into the centre, and when about half way between the goal-post and the corner flag, and eight or nine yards from the goal-line, he put in a shot that Bowles could not hold, and the leather twisted over his hands and fell behind him. Previous to that Looker was very smart in feigning to pass and he got through the backs and tried to score; he kicked a little hard, however, and Bowles secured before Looker could reach the ball. With only a few minutes left for play, the last goal gave the Club a certain

The linesmen were: Messrs. Dodds (H.M.S. Victorious) and Tuchy (V.R.C.) For the losers Kane played a good game at back, but we maintain that the captain makes a inistake in putting Kane in that position. We know that a good man is required in the department, but it is a pity to see a clever player like Kane idle a good part of the game. We do not see such good play on the left wing now as when Kane partnered Millar, nor has the ship's team scored as many goals since. the separation as it did previously. When Butland takes his men out again; we would advise him to put Lewis back and let Kane take! his place with Millar, he will then see the mistake he has been making. Of the other players: who took part on Saturday, Wicks, Butland and Lewis were the pick. Every player for the clubdid well, especially Danby. But all, except Looker, appeared to be pleased when time was called, for the pace right through had been great. Looker, however, appeared as if he could have gone through another struggle; in fact, we believe there is no possible chance of knocking him out or tiring him no matter how long

FLOODS IN JAVA.

Batavia has been badly flooded for some days, writes a correspondent to the Singapore Free Press. Enormous quantities of water came down from the hills, besides torrential rains in the town itself. The canals and relief. sluices were overpowered, and all the low-lying parts of the town were under water. The canals in the town ran brim high, not even clearing the bridges. The Willemskerk on the King Plain was a curious sight, hundreds of people, Europeans and natives, taking refuge in it, There are of course the usual damp jokes about the flood. The tramway engine drivers are to be prosecuted for navigating without a pilot, It certainly was curious to see the trams running breast high in water and looking like a new sort of iron-clad.
